5.2 Investigation of allegations of Insider Trading

In broad terms, a Director, independent committee member, employee or contractor of Australian Ethical will be found to have committed insider trading if they:

- I. Deal in AEI Securities or securities issued by or in relation to another entity in relation to which the Director, employee or contractor holds inside information; or
- II. Communicate inside information to another person knowing (or should reasonably have known) that the other person would, or would be likely to, use that information to deal in, or procure someone else to deal in, securities. This is commonly known as "tipping".

Directors, independent committee members, employees or contractors of Australian Ethical who contravene the insider trading provisions of the Corporations Act are liable to prosecution or to civil penalty action by the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC). In both cases the offender may be ordered to pay compensation to anyone who suffered loss as a result of the insider trading.

Separately, a Director, independent committee member, employee or contractor of Australian Ethical who engages in insider trading may be sued by the Group or another relevant party in a civil action for any loss suffered as a result of the insider trading.

Without limiting Australian Ethical's rights or obligations, allegations of insider trading will be investigated where:

- The allegation is made in writing to the CEO, the General Counsel, the CIO or the Chief Risk Officer and contains the details and circumstances of the alleged insider trading;
- The person making the allegation identifies themselves; and
- The person makes the allegation in good faith.

Refer to section 9 of this policy for whistleblower protections available.

5.3 Conflicts of interest management

The Conflicts Management Policy addresses all conflicts that might arise from securities trading, in particular the identification, monitoring, management, mitigation and resolution of conflicts.

5.4 Training and awareness

Risk is responsible for ensuring that all relevant staff are aware of their obligations under this Policy and any Practice Note and that appropriate divisional procedures to meet the requirements of this Policy and any Practice Note are documented and operational.

6 Exceptions

It is not expected that any exceptions to this Policy will occur. In the unlikely event that exceptions are required these must be approved by the CEO or the Chief Risk Officer.

7 Adherence with Group Policies, Practice Notes and Procedures

Employees must adhere to, and is responsible for familiarising themselves with, all Australian Ethical's policies, practice notes and procedures.

8 Policy Breach

A breach of the law relating to insider trading can have serious consequences, including individual criminal and civil liability. A breach of this Policy will be treated by Australian Ethical as serious misconduct, and may lead to disciplinary action, including termination of employment by Australian Ethical.

9 Whistleblower provisions

In certain circumstances an individual may be concerned that unacceptable behaviour, misconduct or other reportable conduct (as defined in the Whistleblowing Policy) has occurred in relation to this Policy but be in a position where he or she believes it would be personally damaging to pursue through normal channels. The Whistleblowing Policy sets out the guidelines and procedures for dealing with information that may be provided with regard to unacceptable behaviour, misconduct, breaches of the Corporations Act 2001, the Australian Securities and Investments Commission Act 2001, the Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Act 1993 and all other matters relevant to whistleblowing. All employees are encouraged to report any known or suspected incidences of reportable conduct to the Whistleblower Protection Officer (WPO) (The Primary WPO is the Group General Counsel and the Secondary WPO is the Chief Risk Officer).

10 Point of contact

The Chief Risk Officer is the point of contact for matters arising from this Policy.

11 Publication of the Policy

Following Board approval of any material amendments to this Policy, a copy of this Policy must be provided to the Australian Securities Exchange (ASX) Markets Announcement Office for release to the market, within five business days of the change taking effect.

A copy of this Policy must also be provided to the ASX immediately upon receipt of a request from the ASX.

An up-to-date copy of this Policy will be maintained on the Australian Ethical website at all times.

12 Review cycle

This Policy will be reviewed on an annual basis or as deemed necessary by the Chief Risk Officer.
