1. Purpose and Scope

This Policy applies to Australian Ethical Investment Limited and all Group subsidiaries (Australian Ethical). For the avoidance of doubt this includes but is not limited to Australian Ethical Superannuation Pty Ltd and the investment options within the Australian Ethical Retail Superannuation Fund. The purpose of this Policy is to identify key areas where Australian Ethical will act to further the aims of the Australian Ethical Charter in its investment related activities.

2. Reference

This Policy has been written with reference to:

- FSC Standard No. 20 – Superannuation Governance

This Policy should be read in conjunction with the:

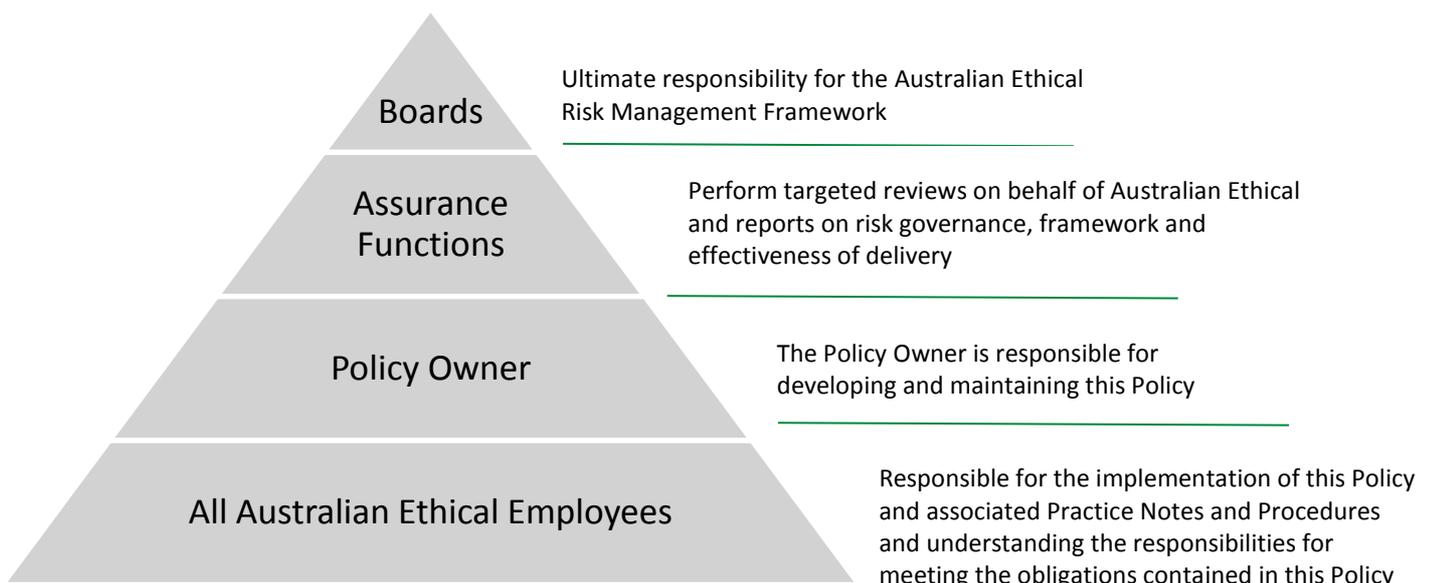

- Risk Management Framework
- Conflict Management Framework

3. Risk Management and Capacity

Risk	Response	Comments
Risk Appetite Statement	Governance & Decision Making	This Policy relates to Australian Ethical in all capacities and is aimed at outlining the policy principles applicable to ethical investment.
Board's Appetite	Minimise
Risk Tolerance	Low

Adherence to this Policy will ensure that the aims of the Australian Ethical Charter will be furthered.

4. Roles and Responsibilities

5. Obligations and Accountabilities

This Policy outlines the approach to ethical investment within the Group.

5.1 People, animals and the environment

In assessing what will further the aims of the Australian Ethical Charter, Australian Ethical will take into account positive and negative impacts on people, animals and the environment, including:

Environmental	Social	Governance
• Air and water pollution	• Diversity and equal opportunities	• Anti- competitive behaviour
• Animal welfare	• Employee engagement	• Board composition and committee structure
• Biodiversity	• Government and community engagement	• Bribery and corruption
• Climate Change	• Human happiness, health, education and well-being	• Compliance
• Deforestation	• Human rights	• Executive remuneration
• Energy efficiency	• Indigenous rights	• Organisational culture
• Waste management	• Labour standards	• Public voice
• Water scarcity	• Product safety and liability	• Stakeholder dialogue

5.2 Investment screening

Australian Ethical will only invest where making the investment is assessed to be aligned with the Ethical Charter.

5.3 Investment management

Within Australian Ethical's screened universe of investments, our assessment of investment opportunity and risk and our decisions to buy and sell individual investments and to otherwise manage our investment portfolios will be informed by our ethical assessment of companies and industry sectors (including their positive and negative impacts on people, animals and the environment).

5.4 Company engagement and advocacy

Australian Ethical will pursue opportunities to influence better management by companies of their impacts on people, animals and the environment i.e. to increase positive and reduce negative impacts. This may include influencing through private engagement, voting, public praise or criticism, shareholder resolutions and divestment.

5.5 Investment industry influence

Australian Ethical will pursue opportunities to increase the capacity and motivation of other investors to also act to advance the interests of people, animals and the environment. This will include exercising influence as member, office holder and working group participant of industry associations and initiatives, as well as independent advocacy for responsible investment.

5.6 Public policy advocacy

Australian Ethical will pursue opportunities to use its investor influence to promote government policies and public attitudes which advance the interests of people, animals and the environment. This will include submissions for government policy consultations and the exercise of a responsible public investment voice on important issues.

5.7 Measurement and transparency

Australian Ethical will pursue opportunities to measure and report on the impact of its action to further the aims of the Ethical Charter. This is important as a tool both for increasing impact and for demonstrating impact to Australian Ethical members and other clients and stakeholders. At the date of this policy Australian Ethical reports in accordance with standards and guidelines of the Global Reporting Initiative (GRI). Current channels for impact reporting include annual Australian Ethical group sustainability reporting, member communications, social media, Good Money magazine and the Australian Ethical website.

5.8 Impact priorities

Australian Ethical will regularly review its priority actions in the above areas, taking into account current social, animal and environmental needs and opportunities for us to make the biggest difference.

5.9 Collaboration

In the above areas Australian Ethical will pursue opportunities to act both independently and collaboratively with other investors as well as with non-investment companies and groups. At the date of this policy we are an active participant in a number of investor organisations including the UN Principles for Responsible Investment, Responsible Investment Association of Australasia, Investor Group on Climate Change, Portfolio Decarbonisation Coalition, Financial Services Council and Association of Superannuation Funds of Australia Limited.

5.10 External investment services

Australian Ethical will only use external investment services where the provision of those services to Australian Ethical is assessed to be aligned with the Ethical Charter. For example, we may appoint an external investment manager for some investments where we are satisfied that those investments will be managed in accordance with the Ethical Charter, having regard to the investment mandate and external manager's capabilities.

5.11 Other policies

Australian Ethical will put in place other policies, frameworks and plans to deal with the way it will further the aims of the Ethical Charter in the above areas. These include, at the date of this policy, other policies, frameworks and plans which deal with:

- rules for interpreting and applying different principles of the Ethical Charter
- ethical research and screening process for approval of investments
- particular impacts on people, animals and the environment
- particular industry sectors under the Ethical Charter
- shareholder voting rights, including shareholder resolutions
- annual engagement and advocacy priorities and objectives.

5.12 Governance

Ethical aspects of the investment process will be overseen by Ethical Advisory Group (EAG). The EAG approves key frameworks which govern how the principles of our Ethical Charter are applied to different industry sectors and key ethical issues such as human rights and animal welfare. The EAG sets priorities for our advocacy and engagement activities, and resolves contentious ethical issues regarding specific investments (current or prospective). The EAG currently comprises Australian Ethical's Managing Director, Chief Investment Officer and Head of Ethics Research, with other internal and external input as appropriate. The board of directors has oversight of the EAG through reporting to the board of the activity of the EAG.

6. Conflicts of interest management

The Conflicts Management Policy addresses all conflicts that might arise from outsourcing, in particular the identification, monitoring, management, mitigation and resolution of conflicts.

7. Training and awareness

Risk and Compliance are responsible for ensuring that all relevant staff are aware of their obligations under this Policy and any Practice Note and that appropriate divisional procedures to meet the requirements of this Policy and any Practice Note are documented and operational.

8. Exceptions

It is not expected that any exceptions to this Policy will occur. In the unlikely event that exceptions are required these must be approved by the Ethical Advisory Group, or their delegate.

9. Adherence with Group Policies, Practice Notes and Procedures

Employees must adhere to, and is responsible for familiarising themselves with, all Australian Ethical's policies, practice notes and procedures.

10. Whistleblower provisions

In certain circumstances an individual may be concerned that unacceptable behaviour, misconduct or other reportable conduct (as defined in the Whistleblowing Policy) has occurred in relation to this Policy but be in a position where he or she believes it would be personally damaging to pursue through normal channels. The Whistleblowing Policy sets out the guidelines and procedures for dealing with information that may be provided with regard to unacceptable behaviour, misconduct, breaches of the Corporations Act 2001, the Australian Securities and Investments Commission Act 2001, the Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Act 1993 and all other matters relevant to whistleblowing. All employees are encouraged to report any known or suspected incidences of reportable conduct to the Whistleblower Protection Officer (Head of People and Culture) in such circumstances.

11. Point of contact

The Head of Ethics Research is the point of contact for matters arising from this Policy.

12. Review cycle

This Policy will be reviewed on at least a two yearly basis or as deemed necessary by the Head of Ethics Research.
